By: Donchell Johnson

Wedding favors are an expression of appreciation and gratitude for wedding guests. Every couple wants their wedding favor to be unique and special. These are a few unique wedding favors you may want to consider:

Personalized Chocolate Candy Bar Favors

Make your wedding one to remember with a sweet keepsake. Personalized chocolate candy bar favors are a great way to give your guests a special edible treat and also, a personalized wrapper keepsake. ForPartyFavors.com has a large variety of personalized candy bars you can choose from.

Donate to Charity

A charitable donation is a wonderful alternative to wedding favors. Make a donation to your favorite charity in honor of your guests. Consider leaving a small edible treat with a tag attached explaining the donation in lieu of a wedding favor.

For example: "Mother of the Groom, Mrs. Doris Waters is dearly missed and forever in our hearts. In their honor, we've made a donation to the New York Cancer Coalition, in lieu of a traditional wedding favor."

Plantable Wedding Favors

Give a plantable wedding favor such as flower seeds or a small potted tree. Planting the seeds or tree will commemorate a new beginning and your guests will be reminded of your wedding day for years to come. The plant or tree will symbolize the growth of love in your marriage.

Candy Buffet Bar

An increasingly popular wedding reception trend is the candy buffet or confection bar. This consists of a variety of candies or treats placed in varied sized glass containers and grouped on a table. This buffet can serve as your wedding favor. Your guests can select the candies of his/her choice, and only those who choose to indulge will partake. A special touch, your favorite candies and small beautiful treat bags, will culminate your special evening. Search the Internet for “wedding candy bar” for more ideas.

Regardless of your wedding favor choice, remember that it should be reflective of your unique relationship and exhibit your gratefulness.
